Campaign '72: Time for a Change

The 1971-72 year, the fifth year of Rebul Academy's existence, was one of change and revolution. The change was from a small private school in the pastures of Learned five years ago, to one of the leading private schools in Hinds County today. The addition of an athletic program helped bring a growing student body together, as the people of Rebul began to feel a growing sense of pride in the school. Each year of Rebul's existence has been different; different students, a different administration, and different events. The 71-72 year was one of great change, and the years to come will bring even greater growth and change.

A changing administration, and a changing student body

Creative teaching motivates students

Learning goes on outside the classroom

Different strokes

for different folks

We the people of Rebul Academy, in order to form a more perfect union . . .

Raiders roll to victory in first season

The Rebel Raiders football team closed out their first season with an impressive record. The team spent many long hard hours at practice and their determination paid off in victories for the team. The Raiders were honored at the end of the season by an invitation to the Magnolia Bowl in Union. Quarterback Turp Duren, Tackle Emmette Pittman, Tailback Monty Montgomery, Guard Jeff Montgomery and Tight End Russel Canada were named to the Academy All-Conference Team.

Beta Club Stresses scholarship and service

Each year the Beta Club takes on new projects to expand its service to the school. Along with the tradition of Freshman Day, book fair, spiritual emphasis week, and scholarship award, the club added a post and board department, and sponsored the selection of the Hall of Fame. Review Staff tells it like it is

Each month of the school year a new edition of the Rebel Review rolled off the press. The paper kept students up to date with news items, class and club news, and Sneak. A covering page was added for the elementary, and there were always interesting letters to the editor. The highlight of the year for the staff was a trip to Skateland, led by the Peggy Fleming of journalism, Miss Hill.

Freshman Day

begins year with a smash

A day long looked forward to by seniors and feared by freshmen was celebrated on September 24, 1971. Each senior had his own devious method of torture, which resulted in agony for the freshmen, but fun for the spectators. At the close of the fun-filled day, Dan Askew and Carol Little received the coveted pie-in-the-face awards as best dressed (?) freshmen

Halloween Carnival has something for everyone

Much hard work went into the preparation of the annual Halloween Carnival at Remm. Bazaars, cake walks, horror houses, games, rides, and a coffeehouse were only a few of the activities offered at the Carnival. Senior Play- a night of comedy

On March 28, the Senior class presented the Senior Play, "Professor How Could You?" Play practice became the high point of the day for the ten lucky seniors who were blessed by having a part. The cast worked diligently exerting sweat and tears. Due to the bad weather, the acoustics didn't equal Carnegie Hall, but it was close enough. Although the Hollywood producers and talent scouts couldn't make it, it was definitely a fantastic success. The superb cast included: Keats-Jay Jones; Vicki-Katie Davis; Grandma-Patricia Ban; Grandpa-Robert Carmichael; John-Ricky Price; Bobolink Bog-gins-Charles Montague; Tootsie-Sherry Dowe; Valerie-Terri Coal-ter; Priscilla-Kathy Martin; and Butcher Boy-Russell Bozeman

Annual Chicken Barbeque- a spring feast

The annual barbeque, held each year on the school campus, was the largest money making project of the year for the Rebul Auxiliary. Hundreds of families came from miles around to enjoy the delicious food, and great fellowship.

Prom '72 "To Rome With Love"

April 28 was a memorable night in the lives of Rebul's juniors and seniors. The prom's Roman theme was carried out in colors of maroon and gold, and a large fountain was one of the many attractive decorations. Grapes and pineapples dotted the area, adding a fruity look to the decor. The Seniors were honored with a leadout, and each couple stumbled out as their names were called. About 12:30 a.m., the flowers and streamers were ripped off the ceiling and walls, heightening the excitement of those who participated. At 1:00 a.m., everyone cleared out, and bee-bopped over to the Dan Curries for a breakfast. Although a few people were hampered by livestock (?), most arrived in a sort of "all right" frame of mind. After the headaches and illness from "staying up late" passed, the prom became one of the many memories of the 71-72 year.

Seniors released after twelve year sentence

The last year of high school for the class of '72 was one that will not be forgotten by the twenty-two people who made up the Senior Class. It was year full of fun and excitement, tests and term papers, parties and trips, and other memorable things. In October, 1971, graduation invitations were ordered. May, 1972 seemed like years away at that time. There was so much of the year left, graduation was an event of the far future. Christmas holidays were a welcome relief for all the Seniors. When school began again in January, 1972 had arrived, and May seemed just a little bit closer. Semester tests were grueling, but the Seniors pulled through with flying colors.

Not too much happened until April rolled around. Of course, the main thing on the Seniors' minds were term papers. Since it was the first paper for most of the Seniors, they were scared to death, but being Seniors, they managed to pull it off. Senior parties began in April also. Lunches, coke parties, dances, and swimming parties took up a lot of time in the lives of the Seniors. The daily school grind finally ended for the Seniors on May 5. The Seniors left at 4:00 a.m. May 11, on the Russells' yellow bus for Fort Walton Beach Florida. Although the weather was terrible, a fantastic time was had by all the Seniors.

Finally, May 15 arrived. At 7:30 p.m., the Seniors took their last march through the gym as Seniors. The memory chain by the Juniors brought many tears, but it was mostly smiles as the diplomas were given out. After graduation, the sobs of the 1972 graduates could be heard all through the halls. Although they were sobs of happiness, they were also sobs of sadness, as the Seniors of 1972 parted as graduates for the first time. Now, all that is left are the memories of the Class of 1972.

Juniors-the Chain Gang

The juniors were one of the most versatile classes. Their main project was accumulating money for the spectacular event of the year The Prom. To do this, they sold car tags and Stanley products, had a bazaar and concession stand, and sponsored Sloppy Day. The juniors also started a tradition of Rebuild a memory chain at graduation. For their class trip, the juniors spent a day in court and sat in on the Mississippi Legislature.

The 1971-72 year has passed. Another school year is coming and by some miracle the '72 annual is now in your hands. The many problems of "out of control" pages and missed deadlines are finally over and the students of Rebel Academy now have record of the '72 year. A few people deserve special thanks without whom there would not have been a Rebel Academy yearbook. Ken and Linda Halky, Lynn Naomi Martha Pickett and members of the staff who spent extra hours to make the yearbook possible. The staff hopes that in this annual you will find a special place that will mean something to you and that will remind you of the past year. The year was one of achievements and a few disappointments but also of fun and good times and hopefully the memories of those times are here. Success to the fellow '72 graduates and good luck to the class of '73.
